The reliable pure food distributor or manufacturer who wants to make a success in Washington should consult The Evening Times and inquire into its plan of promotion and co-operation among the retailers. The Times has been particularly fortunate during the past year in being asked to help out on many food campaigns, every one of which has been a success. The Times is only too glad to extend to all food advertisers the utmost in co-operation and service and respectfully asks that one of its representatives be allowed to confer with brokers or distributors on any contemplated advertising and selling campaigns.
